Eighteen Boys and Girls Graduated From Barium on Monday, May 22nd

Grammar Grade, Athletic, Class Day and Final Exercises Interesting

Graduates Have Departed To Make Their Way in World

Commencement at Barium Springs is over, but the real commencement in the lives of 18 boys and girls has begun.

Shortly after the final exercises on Monday, May 22nd, these 11 girls and seven boys began scattering to various parts of the state. A few had jobs, but most of them didn't, but all will valiantly endeavor to obtain work soon, to put into practice the training that they have received at the Orphanage, and to contribute to the community in which they live the Christian principles and ideals which have been taught them.

Two of the graduates had spent 15 years of their life at Barium, and the entire class averaged 11 years. The shortest period of time any one of the finishing group had been here was five years. The total years of care for this graduating class were 176.

The commencement exercises began on Friday night, May 19, with a presentation by the grammar grades. The exercises were unusually entertaining, and showed painstaking effort on the part of the teachers and matrons who assisted and directed the children.

An ensemble of the intermediate grades sang two numbers, and a doll drill by the tiniest of the children here was rhymically done. Helen Billings gave a recitation, "One, Two, Three," and a humorous reading by Leila Johnston, entitled, "Entertaining Sister's Beau," evoked much laughter.

As a climax, 14 children gave a one-act comedy, "The Initiation," which was cleverly done by the performers. Six boys were to initiate into their society eight girls, being forced to do this by the parents of the young ladies and against the the wishes of the boys. The latter wanted their group to be a man's man assembly, and were provoked at the prospect of girls becoming members.

Elaborate preparations were made to frighten the girls, the boys hoping that their fright and the stiffness of the initiation would reach such proportions that the young ladies would not care to join. The girls, however, preceded the boys into the initiation chamber and quietly listened to all of the conspiracy.

Suddenly, the lights went out, and the ghost-like forms of the girls arose from behind trunks, tables, and other hiding places. They formed a hovering chain about the boys, who were terribly afraid. The lights flashed on, and when the boys saw their would-be initiates, they indicated their thorough disgust. But the tables had been turned, and the girls became members, immediately changing the password and doing other things contrary to the boys' plans.

Members of the cast were Alice Jones, Dorothy Weeks, Bernice Stone, Louise Wilson, Alice Pittman, Hazel Morrow, Margaret Willis, Nelson Farmer, Miller Blue, Hugh McCrimmon, Willard Drye, Arthur Sigmon, and Charles O'Kelley.

Two sermons were heard Sunday, an account of which is given elsewhere in this issue of The Messenger.

Davidson College Makes Award to Jos. B. Johnston

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion Presented for Unselfish Service

WAS ABSENT

He Did Not Attend Exercises Because of Harvey Wilson's Critical Illness

Jos. B. Johnston, manager of the Orphanage for the past decade and more, was signally honored by Davidson College at the closing commencement exercises on Tuesday night, May 30th, when he was awarded the Algernon Sydney Sullivan medallion "in recognition of his unselfish service to his fellow-man."

Davidson College annually makes two such awards—one to a member of the graduating class, and one to an outsider selected by the Davidson faculty. Davidson is the instrument through which the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Society of New York bestows this honor to commemorate the life of the late Mr. Sullivan. Awards are made to that student and that outsider whose lives more nearly conform to that of Mr. Sullivan, who live a life of love, sacrifice and service to others.

Dr. Walter L. Lingle, president of Davidson, made the presentation, which consisted of the medallion, a certificate, and a book on the life of Mr. Sullivan. The Davidson president recounted the years of service which Mr. Johnstsn had rendered to the church and his fellowman through his heading of the big family at Barium. He mentioned the service Mr. Johnston had rendered Davidson in the students whom he had sent to that college from Barium, students whom he said were making fine records there.

"The children at Barium," said Dr. Lingle, "love Mr. Johnston as a father, go to him as a father and stand behind him as a father."

The award was made in the absence of Mr. Johnston, who did not go to Davidson for the occasion because of the serious illness of Harvey Lee Wilson, who at the time was

Harvey L. Wilson Succumbs After Two-Day Illness

Septicaemic Poisoning Takes Life of Barium Boy-Campus is Sad

FUNERAL THURSDAY

Blood Transfusions Were Given In Effort to Save His Life

The Angel of Death visited the Barium family on Wednesday, May 31st., and took little Harvey Lee Wilson. Harvey Lee had been well, but complained Saturday afternoon of a pain in his right shoulder. It was not considered serious enough for attention that day, but when it continued to pain him, attention was give to him, and he seemed relieved. However, on Sunday night he became much worse and was taken to the hospital, where it was discovered that he had a violent infection of the bone, finally developing into septicaemia.

He became unconscious Sunday night and did not regain consciousness except for a few moments Wednesday morning, death coming shortly after noon on Wednesday. Two blood transfusions were used in a desperate attempt to save his life. All to no purpose.

Harvey Lee came to the Orphanage in 1929, about a year after his older brother and sister entered. He was a gentle, good, lovable boy. He did not take to the more or less violent activities of his other boy friends, but was quiet and seemed to enjoy watching the activities of the other boys more than having an active part in them himself. His death is the first one occur since the summer of 1926.

The little fellow died exactly one week before his thirteenth birthday. He would have attended the June birthday dinner.

Harvey Lee joined Little Joe's Church in January 1931, and was a consistent Christian. His burial took place at New Salem Church, his mother's and grandfather's home church. The pallbearers were members of his own cottage group at Barium. The flowers were arranged by his girl classmates.

His death, following so closely after the death of our good friend and neighbor, Dr. Adams, casts an additional feeling of sadness over our community.

Ten Barium Children Invited To New York

Edwin Gould Foundation Invited Five Girls and Five Boys To Encampment

Last year about this time, we were thrilled to get an invitation from Mr. Edwin Gould of New York inviting ten of our children to come and spend the summer. The fortunate ones were: Robert Gallyon, Oscar Clarke, J. D. Beshears, Nelson Farmer, and Clyde Mays, of the boys; with Alice Jones, Doris Smith, Flora May Smith, Gladys Cayton, and Johnnie Burgin, girls.

This year we received an invitation also, to send ten more children to New York.. We could not believe it at first, and wrote to make sure. We thought it impossible that Mr. Gould could include us two years handrunning, in this delightful outing. There are so many orphanages and so many children in each of them, that we couldn't see how he could give us this big "second-helping".

In due time, however, we received a letter confirming that invitation, and the following youngsters are slated for that delightful experience: Miller Blue, James Shroyer, Charles Nungezer, Paul Horne, and Thomas Morgan, among the gentlemen, with Helen Moore, Evelyn Coppedge, Flora May Newman, Lilly Bryant and Virginia Cranfill, of the lucky ladies.

These young people will be in New York City until the 17th. of June, when they will go to Windham, N. Y., to camp for the balance of the summer.

It is certainly fine to be remembered in this way. Mr. Gould remembers us in other ways. We recently received some beautiful pictures to be placed in the cottages; and I am sure our readers will remember the three fire escapes that Mr. Gould provided something over a year ago.

Three Addresses Made to Graduates During the Days of Commencement

Rev. J. Oscar Mann and Rev. John L. Parks Deliver Sermons

"AT HOME" SPEAKERS

Dr. C. E Raynal Made Closing Address--All Were Good

In one sense of the word, the speakers for the 1933 commencement of the Orphanage were "at home". The two sermons on Sunday were preached by ministers who had been students at Barium, and the commencement address on Monday night was delivered by a neighbor.

Rev. J. Oscar Mann, of Chester, S. C., was a resident here for some time, graduating in 1902. Rev. John L. Parks, of Spencer, lived in the Barium community and graduated from the high school here. Dr. C. E. Raynal lives in Statesville, just a few minutes' ride from the Orphanage.

Summarized accounts of the fine advice and suggestions offered the graduates by these three speakers are as follows:

Commencement Address

Dr. C. E. Raynal, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Statesville, gave to the graduates seven words, or elements, which he considered paramount to successful living. These he declared to be morality, courage, strength, knowledge, faith, loyalty and reverence, and in addition to these fundamental ideas he threw in many other supplementary characteristics such as kindness, courtesy, helpfulness, consideration, and conviction.

In discussing the seven words that he was presenting to the Barium graduates, Dr. Raynal said at the outset that "just as there has never been a great nation that was not moral, neither has there been a great life. No one," he said, "can make the team of life without good morals."

He described a courageous man as one with a big heart, one who linked the great, the fine, and the true with the best things of life. He pointed out that the Bible says, "No coward will ever enter heaven." Coupled with this word was strength "not mere muscle, nor the biggest strength," he said, "but the strength of character, conviction, loyalty and faithfulness.

"Kindness without strength," he continued in further discussing this point, "is nothing; it is weakness. You need strength to meet the world unchanged and undaunted. Go about with words of encouragement, kindness and helpfulness. No man is civilized until he learns to be kind and considerate."

He then turned to knowledge and maintained that the greatest element of education was to learn the use of ideas. "We should take the best ideas of the past, relate them to the opportunities of the present, and look forward to the hope of the future. An anchor to your soul is faith. You should believe well of life, love God and love men, and with that love will come a faith in God and a faith in your fellowmen."

The Statesville pastor stressed loyalty - loyalty to the things that are known to be right - loyalty to God, to man, to home, to family, to friends, and to the nation. "Be loyal and stand unchanged in this changing world," he advised.

In closing, he discussed reverence. "Nothing is comparable to reverence. love and obedience of God, and if you possess reverence all of the forces of the universe that you have to fight will be conquered. Go with God and all will be well."

To Y. P. Societies

"When man divests himself of sordid ambitions, mean purposes, sneaking policies, and small conceits, then Christ can be seen by faith, and man begins to live a life of fortitude and faithfulness," was the declaration here May 21st by Rev. John L.

All of Us Mourn

THE LATE DR. M. R. ADAMS

Barium Doctor Dies Suddenly Saturday, 27th

Dr. M. R. Adams Stricken by Heart Attack in Morning; Died in Afternoon

26 YEARS' SERVICE

Loss of Doctor And Friend is Keenly Felt at Orphanage

On Saturday, May 27th, our community was shocked and saddened by the sudden death of Dr. M. R. Adams. On Monday preceding this Saturday we had our commencement, and on the night of the graduating exercises there happened to be an extra chair on the stage, and Dr. Adams was asked to occupy that chair. He demurred, saying that he didn't deserve that high a place in our commencement exercises. After urging, he accepted this seat and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the graduation of 18 of his children.

Some of these graduates had never known any other doctor, but Dr. Adams. He had been their physician, their counsellor and their friend, and not only these 18, but hundreds of others at Barium Springs. He had been our physician for 26 years. Think of it! Think of the thousands of contacts that he had with our family here. He was called in to administer to their illnesses and their sufferings, but a contact with Dr. Adams meant more than a professional call by a physician. You could not come in contact with that man without being a better person from that contact. He was the man that rang true in every word and act of his life, and his associations with us at Barium constitutes one of our most precious memories.

Our entire community mourns his loss, and yet our distress is entirely for what we have lost. We know that Dr. Adams' reward is assured and that he has earned the "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Dr. Adams was largely instrumental in setting up the splendid health program at Barium Springs. Under his guidance, the death rate was consistently lowered, until for the last seven years until May 30th there had been no death at all. His thorough knowledge of the physical set-up of every child here was one of the best safeguards that we had to guide us in the particular activities of work or athletics that was best for any particular child.

Dr. Adams received very little in money for services at Barium. His pay came at that time of year when we had our annual check-up; when we weighed, measured and looked over each individual child. The satisfaction Dr. Adams got out of this check-up in seeing the physical progress made by each child every year

(FORM OF BEQUEST.)

"I give and bequeath to the REGENTS OF THE ORPHANS' HOME OF THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA, Incorporated Under the Laws of the State of North Carolina, (HERE NAME THE BEQUEST.)

AN ARGUMENT

A big silver dollar and a little browr cent,
Rolling along together went,
Rolling along on the smooth sidewalk,
When the dollar remarked, for dollars do talk,
"You poor little cent, you cheap little mite,
I am bigger and twice as bright.
I'm worth more than you a hundred fold
And written on me in letters bold
Is the motto drawn from a pious creed,
'In God we trust,' which all may read;"
"Yes, I know," said the cent,
"I am a cheap little mite,
And I know I'm not big, nor good, nor bright,
And yet," said the cent, with a meek little sigh,
"You don't go to church as often as I."

—P. O. H.—

The revision of the mailing list goes on and on. If you receive two copies, help us by sending a postal card notifying us of this.

—P. O. H.—

Most of our 18 boys and girls who graduated from Barium May 22nd. are still looking for work. If you can help in any way, let us know, and we'll try to supply your needs.

—P. O. H.—

It was a sad occasion here when our 1933 graduates left. Just imagine yourself leaving your home, with never the possibility of returning for a residence there. That's the way most of our graduates felt, for this has been the only home some of them have ever known.

—P. O. H.—

We think that the custom started some years ago of sending sums of money to the Orphanage as a memorial to a deceased friend, in lieu of flowers for the funeral, is commendable. It is a fine way to memorialize a friend, and we feel that in every case this procedure would have met the approval of the departed one.

—P. O. H.—

We cordially welcomed the 50 or more alumni of the Orphanage who returned to the campus for the 1933 commencement. One of them came from as far away as Washington, D. C. Their interest in the Orphanage is keen, and we are constantly receiving letters from them. They are proud of Barium and return to their old Home at every opportunity.

—P. O. H.—

Our hope is that many individuals throughout the North Carolina Synod will use the blank on the front page of The Messenger, and authorize us to draw a draft upon them each month. Quite a few are doing this now, and we believe that there are others who are able to give us a monthly amount who will join the ranks of those already contributing in this manner. An assured monthly income gives us a basis upon which to operate. We never have any exact idea of what will be sent to us each month.

—P. O. H.—

The array of pictures on the opposite page will go to many Presbyterian homes within the state, but our revision of the mailing list has not been completed and there will be some who fail to see them. Orphanage Secretaries and others in the individual communities are therefore asked to clip that page and tack it on a bulletin board where all may see. Our plan is to issue a page like this at periodic intervals, thereby hoping to make our paper more attractive, and at the same time let our friends see the pictures of some of the children who are at Barium.

—P. O. H.—

Ten excited Barium children left here last week to spend the entire summer as a guest of Mr. Edwin Gould at a summer camp in New York state. Added to their anticipation of the encampment was the approaching thrill of meeting Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmie Foxx, Lefty Grove, Johnny Allen and other members of the New York Yankee and Philadelpia Athletic teams. Arrangement for this had been made by Earl Mack, always a friend of the Orphanage, who was in Statesville about ten days ago. They were to meet these luminaries before the press gallery.

—P. O. H.—

Although there are a number of encouraging aspects to our receipts during the month of May, on the other hand there is much to discourage us. Many of our churches have not recovered from the bank closings. The encouraging features are the new organizations that are putting Barium in their budget for a regular monthly amount. The discouargement is over the total for that month. Those organizations which have sent checks have, for the most part, increased their gifts, but there are so many who have not contributed since the new church year started.

—P. O. H.—

One of the Men's Bible classes in the Synod recently notified us that the class had decided to send 50% of their total offering every Sunday to Barium, and in the letter there came a check for over $20.00 for the April contribution. Our expression of gratitude for this decision was feeble compared to how we actually feel about. In addition to this, we have had two Sunday Schools to recently notify us that they intended giving one Sunday's offering each month to the Orphanage. A church says that an offering will be made every third Sunday. This is greatly encouraging to us, and we hope that similar letters will be coming to us soon.

Alumni News

Some days ago the writer of this column went to Charlotte. It seemed that everybody that I expected to see was out that day; and yet, when I came home I felt fine, just like I had accomplished a full day's work.

Trying to analyze this feeling, I can only account for it by having run across an old Barium Springs' boy: One of the real old-timers, Clinton Powell. He took me out to lunch, and the association with him was so pleasant that it cheered up the whole day.

There were fine folks raised around Barium Springs back in the early days of the century. We know, because we had another one of these old-timers to preach our baccalaureate sermon at commencement, Rev. J. O. Mann, of Chester, S. C. Mr. Mann brought with him one of his sons whom we were glad to introduce to Barium.

On Sunday night of commencement, Rev. John Parks, of Spencer, preached our sermon to the young people. He brought with him, Mrs. Jarvis, who was a girl at Barium between 1900 and 1906. She was Lee Cosby in those days.

Having these two Barium alumni on our program, no doubt had something to do with the unusually large number of old boys and girls returning. The list is impressive, and we are giving it below:

Robert Beattie, Martha Beattie, Elsie Beck (Wright), Mozelle Beck, Ruth Freeman, Mary Alice Mott, Louise Wilson, Jeanette Steele, Edmonia Steele, Lucille Long, Sylvia Brown, William Murrell, Ed Todd, Mildred Warner, Lola Earnhardt (Teague), Julian West, J. B. Lee, A. J. Potter, Johnson Shaffer, Guy East, Maud Whitlowe, Esther Archer, Pearl Beaver, Sarah Donaldson, Albert Cumbie, Katherine Pickler, Paul Pittman, Odessa Warner, Marguerite Todd (Tate), Mary Brown, Herman Clark, Morris Lee, Rachel Moore (Kyles), Marshall Little, Sidney Archbell, John Lee, Thelma Shaffer (Patsch), Rebecca Wood (Gentry), Ruth Stanley (Suther), Elmer Little.

Then, there were two that were not raised at Barium, but whom we claim as our own, nevertheless, Miss Eugenia Patterson, and Mrs. Rachel Hannah McCauley.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. McLeod, of Fayetteville, announce the birth of a son, Donald Ray, on May 5th. Mrs. McLeod was formerly Annie Hair, and left the Orphanage in 1928.

Esther Archer and Maude Whitlow, both '28 graduates of Barium, participated in another graduation on Tuesday, May 16th, for this day marked the awarding of diplomas to these two Barium girls by the School of Nursing of the Charlotte Sanatorium.

Coming as a great surpise to friends was the marriage on May 27th of Miss Fay Marlowe and Ray Sigmon, both of Mooresville. Miss Marlowe was at one time a student at Barium, but left here in 1932. Since her departure she has been working in Mooresville. Mr. and Mrs. Sigmon are residing in that city.

BARIUM DOCTOR

was the thing that we believe he valued more than any other pay that came to him.

He had said repeatedly that nothing gave him more satisfaction than to observe the splendid physical development of the children under his care at Barium Springs, and we at Barium felt safe with our physical well-being in his care. His passing will be mourned by a large circle of people beyond the bounds of our state and nation, by people who have at some time in their lives been served by this good man.

Wait a minute, EVERYBODY! Haven't you been reading the papers and seeing where the dollars have depreciated and become more plentiful? Now is the finest time in the world to commence sending it to the Orphanage. We can use those cheap dollars. world without end! We can use those cheap dimes and nickles and pennies, too.

Just take a squint at this Table of Receipts. Only $1,500.00 contributed during the month of May. May expenses were about $9,000.00. The difference between the receipts and expenses is still on the books. The total amount contributed from the Synod averaged two cents per member! Where is that other eight cents? Remember, we were nine cents short on April, and now we are 17 cents short. If each of you will dig up that 17 cents and send to us, we will guarantee one of the finest bouquets that you ever read will be printed in this column next month. Come on and let's be sports and do this, without Roosevelt's getting after us and making us do it!

You know Roosevelt has even made Congress behave, and there's no telling but he might make this table behave, someway, even if he had to take it out of some big banker's income tax.

class, as a unit, was held, and this was in the form of broadcast, with "Station P. O. H." operating. Joe Keenan class president, was the station announcer, and Marguerite Gaskill, historian, was the program announcer. Before listening to other broadcasters, Marguerite read a history of the class, and then presented nine other members to appear before the improvised microphone.

Clifton Vann welcomed the several hundred listeners-in. Marvin Stone, Mildred Thomas and Jessie Roper explained the class' motto, flower, and colors in respective order. Alyce Yarbrough gave the poem; Margaret Stinson announced the superlative selections; Lucile Beck prophesied the future; Pearl Bostian presented gifts in keeping with the personality of each individual and Ruth Shannon proclaimed the last will and testament of the class. Interspersed were the theme song and other numbers by the class.

At 5 o'clock of the same day, the final athletic awards were made, and this is likewise recounted elsewhere in this paper.

Final Exercises

The finals on Monday night opened with the salutatory address delivered by Ruth Shannon. Marian McCall rendered a piano solo, and after a song by the seventh grade, Mrs. John Q. Holton awarded certificates to the thirty odd boys and girls who enter high school next fall. Dr. Raynal then spoke, and Marian McCall and Mary Lathan West gave a piano duo.

Diplomas were presented by T. L. O'Kelley, head of the Barium schools to Lucile Beck, Durham; Pearl Bostian, Concord; Marguerite Gaskill, Washington; Marian McCall, Winston-Salem; Jessie Roper, Morganton; Ruth Shannon, Gastonia; Margaret Stinson, Barium; Mildred Thomas, Barium; Mary Lathan West, Fayetteville; Alyce Yarbrough, Fayetteville; Walter Archer, Davidson; Joe Keenan, Charlotte; Frank Purdy, Barium; Marvin Stone, Hickory; and Clifton Vann, Raleigh.

Certificates from the high school were given to Helen Drye, Winston-Salem; Lester King, Charlotte, and Ray Shaffer, Charlotte.

Joe Keenan, class president, acknowledged the diplomas and certificates.

Jos. B. Johnston, manager of the Home, was in charge of the medal awards, but asked several of the faculty members to assist. Mr. O'Kelley gave the scholarship medals. Leila Johnston made the highest average, 96.9, of the grammar grades, but having been given the medal in 1932, she retired in favor the next highest, Alice Jones, of Concord, with an average of 94.5 to whom Mr. O'Kelley gave the medal. Billie Martin, of Lumberton, made the highest average, 95.8, of the high school, and was given this medal.

The Bible medal, going to the person who had completed specified memory work and had made the highest average in the four-year Bible course went to Marian McCall, and was presented by Rev. W. C. Brown. Hattie Morris, of Raleigh, won the music improvement medal, which was presented by Mr. Johnston, and he then awarded Frank Purdy, of Barium, the ace medal, which is annually given to that graduate who, in the opinion of the faculty, workers and students, has been the most conscientious worker during his stay at the Orphanage.

Mr. Johnston asked R. G. Calhoun to award a loving cup to Charles Gallyon, captain of the 110-pound championship conference basketball team, and R. E. Jackins presented to Ray Shaffer a medal for his feat of being state high school champion in the 145-pound wrestling class. This medal was given by a sports concern.

Rev. W. C. Brown, local pastor, presented each member of the class with a Bible, after which the junior class marched behind the seated seniors and sang, "Farewell to Seniors." Marian McCall delivered the valedictory, and Rev. Brown pronounced the benediction.

THREE ADRESSES

Parks, pastor of the Spencer Presbyterian church, as he delivered the annual sermon to the Young People's Societies of the Presbyterian Orphans' Home. This was the third exercise on the 1933 commencement program.

The Spencer minister used as his text, "And they saw no man, save Jesus." He developed two central thoughts in "Wanted: A Vision of Christ," and second, "Wanted: A Verdict for Christ." In elaborating upon the first, he stated that "man needs to lift his sky-line and catch for his soul a loving gleam of heaven. To see Christ one must look higher than nature; higher than Moses and Elijah; higher than the best and wisest of men. Until man visualizes God he is blind to life's abiding realities and is bound by the chains of daily circumstance."

Mr. Parks averred that many young people live empty, monotonous, cheerless and faithless lives because they are not looking up. "A horizontal vision leads to a life of materialism, despair, gloom, fear and defeat," and as a contrast to this, he declared that "a stainless, vertical vision makes a man aspire, worship, hope and trust. The man with a pure, lofty vision," he said, "is a dawnbringer."

A verdict for Christ is a natural outgrowth when a vision of Him is obtained, said the speaker, and "when these two things happen an individual realizes that it is Christ who imparts life that is rich, radiant and eternal. To flaunt Christ is hell, but to friendship with Him is heaven. To all who see Him, He is beautiful; to all who receive Him, He is the Giver of bountiful life," he said in closing.

Baccalaureate

"When you get out into the world your Christian faith will be discounted by some, it will be laughed at by others, some people won't take stock in your faith, and there will be the temptation to ease off, to drift away, but above all things, don't do that, no matter what happens, for your Christian faith is the most precious thing in your possession," admonished and advised Rev. J. Oscar Mann, pastor of the Purity Presbyterian church of Chester, S. C., who May 21st preached the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduation class at Barium Springs.

Mr. Mann, who graduated from Barium in 1902, spoke feelingly upon the subject, "The Supreme Essential of Life— Faith," because he himself had been a student at Barium and had left here to meet the manifest problems that trouble young people when they are taken from the sheltering surroundings of an institution like the local orphanage.

He pointed out that life was set in the midst of hostile forces, that the graduates would be tested by antagonism, that there would be things encountered to darken their minds and to bring disappointment and defeat to them. "Don't let the world get a victory over you," he pleadingly urged and stated that the only way their victory would come over the world was through unflinching and unalterable faith.

The Chester minister cited a sense of sin, the actual presence and power of sin itself, and the power of materialism as three things which would be constantly trying to drag them down. In passing he also mentioned poverty, poor health, a disruption of plans, disappointments, the loss of a job, friends and other things which would be working against them. "Don't depend upon these things, because they will cause a breakdown of your faith, but let your faith be supreme, the anchorage of your life, and nothing can disturb you."

Believe It Or Not--Six Years' Difference

Take a look at these two pictures. The upper one was taken in 1926, the lower this year.
Six years, nine children replaced in their own homes—137,505 meals, 22,500 school days—289 pairs of shoes, 480 new garments—18 minor operations—about two quarts of pulled teeth, some hours of punishment, many of fun; enough strength to make us proud of them, enough weakness to make us love them.

Capt. Pritchett Is Heard at Barium

He Spoke at Final Athletic Exercise-Letters and Awards Made

An address by Capt. Norton G. Pritchett, professor of physical education at Davidson College, on the afternoon of May 22nd., featured the final athletic exercise of the 1932-33 session at Barium Springs, when letters and other awards were made. The program was held in the dining room with Ralph McMillan, physical education director at Barium in charge and followed supper at 5 o'clock.

Capt. Pritchett dwelt upon the accomplishments of the Barium boys who had gone to Davidson, not only upon their physical prowess and attainments, but the principles for which they stood, and urged his hearers to carry on. He pointed out and urged the Barium students to avoid three things which will spoil an athlete, namely, newspaper notoriety before entrance at college; discouragement because the athlete is not as well known as others, and finally the lack of an inner brace. It was the latter that he strongly urged that the students develop, so that they would not be a hindrance to themselves and other people.

Coach McMillan announced that 138 of the 221 students of the grammar grades took part in some form of organized athletics during the past year, and that 94 of the 100 members of the high school participated. He stated that the seventh grade amassed the highest number of points in the grammar grades, and a loving cup was presented to David Spencer, of that class, who scored most points. Morris Freeman, of the tenth grade, was likewise given a cup on the same basis, since the tenth grade won in the high school.

The boys and girls who were declared the best athletes of their respective classes were:

Eighth—Milton Gaskill and Eva Sluder.

Ninth—Cheek Freeman and Irene Shannon.

Tenth—Morris Freeman and Margaret Brooks.

Eleventh—Lester King and Ruth Shannon.

Notice of Sale

Announcement has come to Barium from the emergency committee of Mecklenburg Presbyterial that the first of a series of sales of food products from friends around Charlotte will be held in Charlotte the last Saturday in June. Ladies of the Auxiliaries in the vicinity of Charlotte and others who have set aside "God's Acre" or its equivalent in farm produce and products will bring them in to a designated place (announcement of which will later appear in the Charlotte papers) and friends of the Orphanage are asked to patronize the sale and buy the food that would be bought elsewhere on that day.

All of the proceeds of this sale, and others which will be staged during the summer, will be sent to Barium as a special offering. Only two of these sales were held last year, and they netted a total in excess of $150 to the Orphanage, a gift which arrived at a most opportune time. Directors of the program this summer plan more than this number of sales, and the relief that will come to the Orphanage through the money raised in this manner will be particularly welcomed.

This is a splendid opportunity for the ladies of Charlotte to contribute indirectly to Barium through the purchase of necessities. The gathering together of the food and produce and the raising of it will have entailed considerable effort on the part of the members of rural Presbyterian churches, but with a united co-operation the sum total will be amazing.

Don't forget the date, Saturday, June 24th. Do your part and buy them out by 10 o'clock in the morning. Come early and get your pick of the fresh vegetables, butter, eggs and other things that will be on sale that day.

hovering between life and death in the Davis Hospital in Statesville. Dr. Lingle commented upon this by saying, "Mr. Johnston's great love for the children in the Orphanage is shown tonight because he was unwilling to leave the bedside of one of the boys there who is critically ill."

This is the sixth medallion presented by Davidson to an outsider since the award was first given. Others have included Miss Cornelia Shaw, librarian at Davidson; Mrs. Robson, nurse at the infirmary there; Mrs. Barnes, who operates a boarding house at Davidson; Mrs. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, and W. H. Sprunt, of Wilmington.

Given Gold Football

COACH McMILLAN

Davidson College is trying out some experiments this year. They are having commencement day at night; and they had an "Athletic Night" in the morning! On this athletic night, the names of all the players who earned varsity letters are read out. Gold footballs are presented to the Seniors earning their letters in football. Awards are made for basketball, track, wrestling, and several trophies given.

In addition to the student awards, there is always one alumnus selected to receive a gold football. He is selected for his loyalty to Davidson, and for help he has given Davidson athletics, as well as other things. We are delighted that this year our coach was honored. Mr. Ralph McMillan is the proud possessor of that 1933 gold football, and all of us at Barium feel honored in his honor.

HOWARD

Since school is out we are all looking forward to vacations.

We enjoyed the commencement exercises very much. The seniors graduated May 22nd, and Bobby Collier was the mascot. We were sorry to see the seniors leave.

Our work has been changed, and everyone likes their new jobs.

Miss Woods went to Mooresville Thursday night to see her niece and nephew graduate.

The truck farm boys have brought us some English peas and we have been busy shelling them.

We have our bathing suits ready to go in swimming when we can get a chaperon.

All of us were glad to see Dr. McGregor at the meeting of the Regents last month. We learned to love him during his series of meetings here. We met Mrs. McGregor and we think we would like her just as much.

Thelma McIntyre had a visit from her sisters and two cousins last week.

We enjoyed having Rev. Mr. Eller of the First Baptist Church of Statesville, preach to us last Sunday on temperance.

All of us mourn the death of Dr. Adams. He had been physician here for a long time. We loved him and will miss him so much.

Dr. Robertson, of Clover, S. C., preached a very interesting sermon for the children Sunday night, and told us some stories Monday night about the Civil War.

—Alice Jones

LEES

We enjoyed hearing Dr. McGregor preach, and we hope he will come back sometime.

We are having hot weather these days and everbody is getting lazy. (No, sir, and no, ma'am, we aren't lazy all of the time.) We are going in swimming a great deal now.

We are glad that school is out and that our vacation time is here. Two of our boys are going on a vacation next week.

All of us have to work all day now since school is out.

We will soon be eating peacnes, for they are almost ripe on our trees. The watermelons and cantaloupes are up now. We will be glad when they get ripe. We will soon be having tomatoes, also.

—House Cats

FARM

How are our friends this month? As for the farm gang, we are very busy, as usual. We have been occupied with a good many tasks this month.

Our baseball field has had the finishing touches put on it, and we were able to have a game on it last Saturday.

We have mowed and stored away in the barn about 50 acres of alfalfa to feed the cows and horses. It looks as if it will soon be ready to cut again. The hot weather has ripened our barley and early oats, and at the present time we are harvesting both of these crops. The wheat will be ready to cut in a week or so. This will keep the farm busy for quite a while as there are 130 acres or more of grain to be harvested.

A few of the boys have been busy mowing the grass on the campus. It grows mighty fast, which means that someone is busy on it most of the time.

We have prepared some of our land for corn, to be used for silage later. The new ground land was especially hard to get in shape because of the roots and sprouts that had to be cut and hauled off.

Our sheep are being sheared. We will have a lot of wool to sell as there are about 50 sheep.

Since school is out and we are working all day there has been much accomplished lately.

—Farm Gang

ANNIE LOUISE

We haven't had much time to work in our flower gardens. We were mighty busy at commencement, for 29 of our girls had part on the program. Now we are busy getting five of our girls ready to go to camp in New York.

We were mighty glad to have Dr. McGregor preach for us, and hope he will come again.

Ruth Weddington went home Saturday on her vacation. The girls who are to spend the summer in New York leave next Thursday, which brings the total to six.

We enjoyed having Dr. Robertson preach for us last Sunday, and tell us stories the following night about the Civil War. We hope he will visit us again.

Most of our girls made their grades and will be promoted next fall.

We certainly were sorry when we heard about the death of our doctor. Dr. Adams was our friend and it will be hard to find someone to take his place.

We like to go to school, but we are glad that it is over for this year. It is rest for our teachers, who are going on their vacations. We miss them a lot.

Athletic Season Closed at Barium

During Spring Orphanage Teams Won 15; Lost 11 Contests

During the late spring season, five different athletic teams have represented the Orphanage at home and abroad, with a net total of 15 victories and eleven losses in these engagements. The girls have had both a varsity baseball and track team, and the three others have been boys' track teams—the varsity, 130-pound outfit, and the 125-pound crew.

Ten of the losses have been by the girls' teams, which have only recently been started at Barium, and which have not been developed as much as the boys. The track girls have copped one meet, and lost six as well as finishing third in the South Piedmont conference track meet held at Barium.

They have a better record in baseball, however, but they ended on the "red" side of the ledger. Their victories have numbered two, and their losses total three. The whole athletic plan at Barium is to get as many participants as possible, and for these participators to get lots of exercise. They do this in girls' baseball games.

For example, the Barium girls have scored a total of 114 runs in their five games, for an average of almost 23 per encounter. The lowest total of any seven-inning game has been 22 runs, while the highest went to 74. The latter was against Granite Quarry at Barium. The visitors tallied 21 runs in their half of one inning, and Barium came back to run the bases for a total of 16 counters.

The boys' varsity took part in 10 meets. They humbled Oakhurst and Mocksville twice. They swamped Sanford and Rock Hill. They were twice victorious over a combined team from the high schools of Forsyth county, and won a triple meet with competitors from Winston-Salem and Old Town. In the Civitan meet at Greensboro, Barium scored 26 points, tying Winston-Salem for fourth place. The winning team had only 23 tallies.

Barium's 130-pound track team has won from Oakhurst twice, but the 125-pound tracksters dropped their lone meet of the season to High Point.

The grammar grades both boys and girls, had one meet this season. The boys won theirs, and the girls lost.

Following are the results:

GIRLS' VARSITY TRACK

Barium		Opponents
41	Oakhurst	18
14	Oakhurst	45

29	Concord	20
9	Forsyth County	68
28 1-3	Kannapolis	30 2-3
143 1-3	Total	228 2-3

The girls' track team participated in the South Piedmont track meet at Barium on April 29th, but did not win. Kannapolis won the affair with 28 points, Concord was second with 22, and Barium followed with 21.
